

Time Out

Summer of loving yourself

Freshen up with Queer Eye's Fab Five

Inside

This week's Time Out New York in no time at all

→
Treat yourself—well! Indulge at the Golden Hour (pictured), breathe easy at the Cloisters and invigorate your soul at a show.

FEATURES & REGULARS ↓

4 City Life 14 Queer Eye 24 Wellness in NYC 28 Food & Drink 35 Things to Do
43 Film 45 Music & Nightlife 48 Theater & Dance 52 Art 54 Undateables

COVER PHOTOGRAPH: TAYLOR MILLER

PHOTOGRAPH: KATIE JUNE BURTON

facebook.com/timeoutnewyork

@timeoutnewyork

@timeoutnewyork

timeout.com/nyblog

Food & Drink

Edited by Jake Cohen
timeout.com/nyfood @jakecohen

Get it while it's hot

Check these summer-only dishes and drinks off our bucket list before they fall away next season.

By Jake Cohen and Alyson Penn

IF SUMMER BODIES are formed in the winter, then winter bodies are clearly formed in the summer. That's why we're all about enjoying the abundance of snacks and sips that flood the New York dining scene during the warmer months. From frozen cocktails and frosty ice cream cones to plates abounding with plump tomatoes and ripe veggies, here's our list of the bingeworthy items to try before the season's end.

Frozen Negroni at the Golden Hour

For a chill aperitif, head to the courtyard of this Chelsea hotel to sip a frozen Negroni from the expert team behind Maison Premiere. Sip the cocktail of gin, Campari, Spanish vermouth and orange-blossom oil as you drink in the lush greenery around you.

→ High Line Hotel, Chelsea (thegoldenhournyc.com). $14.

Frozen Negroni at the Golden
Hour

